USING LINKEDIN AS A RECRUITING TOOL

The amount of change in the field of recruiting has gone from little-by-little; to slightly more; to this is exciting; and now to how do I possibly keep up with it. In our efforts to assist you in keeping pace, the Dayton Area Recruiting Alliance will devote our January meeting to one of the newer recruiting tools – LinkedIn, the “Adult” social networking site.

This session will address the questions: what is LinkedIn; who uses it; and why should I use it? Our presenter will introduce the free services and also provide information regarding additional services available for purchase.

Our Presenter:

Linda Littler
Regional Job Resource Consultant
Right Management

Linda has nearly 20 years of experience in the employment industry. In her current role, she works collaboratively with Right's transitioning candidates as they pursue re-employment opportunities -- connecting candidates with opportunities through a variety of means. She is also a resource in connecting employers with candidates through various means. Linda has an active role on the Board of Directors for the Cleveland Society of Human Resource Managers and has an extensive teaching background.
