Presents

TAPPING INTO DAYTON TALENT RESOURCES

This may be a good time for your organization to take a far-sighted approach – to take advantage of the large number of talented individuals who are currently available. We will bring together representatives of a number of organizations who will provide information about on how to access local talent via their services.

We will also hear about an event that will engage hundreds of “young creatives” in the Miami Valley. The goal of this Young Creatives Summit will be to develop an action plan for the region - devised and implemented by young creatives - to help Dayton better grow and serve its young talent.

Panel will consist of:

Cheryl Krueger, Director Career Services WSU
Matt Massie, Manager Career Services, Sinclair Community College
Jennifer Treat, WPAFB TAPS program
Lucious Plant, Job Center
Robin Brun, Right Management
